Poster Analysis Challenge Reflections

After reviewing several posters, reflect on the Challenge as a whole:

- Were there any posters where the intended message was really different from the unintended?
- What messages do you want to send your students about the experience of learning in your classroom?
- What messages are you sending via what you post on your walls?
- What implications does this exercise have for your classroom, your instruction, and your interactions with your students?
- What percentage of the things on the wall were created by students?
 - By you?
 - Store bought?
 - What do you think is the right percentage?
